2. President Garrison reported on the following issues:

- The “Bucks for Brains Research Initiative” will go before the Senate Education; the President will continue to attend meetings in Charleston to make sure the initiative goes forward.
- The President was involved in two research symposiums – the “Undergraduate Student Research Day” held in Charleston, WV and the “Research Showcase” held on Capitol Hill.
- A bio-science conference will be held this week in Morgantown, WV.
- The budget is moving forward; it is in the second half of the legislative session, and it will include salaries and benefits. Later in the year, the President will ask the Faculty Senate to provide a recommendation to the Board of Governors to request an increase in salary for faculty and staff.
- The FBI named WVU as its “Bio-metrics Research Portal” and its top academic partner as the bio-metric center for excellence. WVU is proud of the partnership and the credit goes to the faculty. It was a wonderful opportunity for WVU; a lot of positive coverage was done by the media, and recognition was very well noticed.

- Discussions about various “key concepts” continue to take place; the President will talk with members of the Faculty Senate and the Senate Executive Committee about various opportunities, which will be the underpinning for the 2015 planning.

3. Chair Kite reported on the following issues:

- WVU has received positive feedback concerning the Faculty Senate’s last two meetings, especially from the Charleston Gazette.
- The eMBA panel continues its investigation. The panel has been given ample time to make deliberations so a thorough search can be completed.
- A faculty forum was held on January 11th concerning writing in the undergraduate curriculum, and approximately 70 participants were in attendance.
- A student forum will be held on Wednesday, February 15th at the Mountainlair concerning “W courses” and thoughts on “writing in the undergraduate curriculum.”
- A blog has been placed on the Faculty Senate’s webpage concerning “writing in the undergraduate curriculum.”
- Various workgroups will present reports as progress is made. A Board of Governor’s meeting will be held on Friday, February 15th, and the Chair encouraged senators to attend.
- Chair-elect Virginia Kleist gave a report from the Workgroup on Shared Governance.

4. It was moved and duly seconded to approve the minutes from the January 14, 2007 meeting. Motion carried, and it was moved and duly seconded to approve the minutes from the special Faculty Senate meeting that was held on January 28, 2008. Motion carried.

5. The following SCC reports were approved from the consent agenda:
   - Annex I, New Courses and Course Changes. Motion carried.
   - Annex II, The Alteration Report was presented for information.

6. Provost Lang gave a power point presentation concerning “WVU Enrollment,” and it can be reviewed at: http://www.wvu.edu/~facultys/08Files/FacultySenateEnrollmentUpdate08.ppt

   Professor Larry Hornak said senators can pick up the “2010 Plan – Building the Foundation for Academic Excellence” 2007 report.

8. Roy Nutter, Advisory Council of Faculty representative, gave an ACF report. The report was e-mailed to all senators.
9. Kristina Olson, Chair, Student Rights and Responsibilities, said the committee has worked to revise the academic dishonesty reporting procedure as defined by the Student Conduct Code, which is also known as Policy 31. The revised documents were presented to the senators along with a draft of a syllabus statement. She said the committee worked on the documents over the fall semester and it had input from members of the administration as well as the Office of Student Judicial Affairs. She said the goal of the committee is to clarify the reporting and appeal procedure for both faculty and students and streamline the appeal process to ensure all instances of academic dishonesty would be reported to the OSJA and to enable the identification of repeat offenders. Professor Olson said the work resulted in the reporting form and flow chart that was provided in Annex III. She said the standard syllabus statement regarding academic integrity was included in Annex III; the ultimate goal is to deter academic dishonesty and report it when it occurs.

Professor Olson moved to adopt the 3 documents regarding academic dishonesty; it was “recommended” that it be the “official policy statement” and be placed on the official website. It was duly seconded. Motion carried.

Professor Garbutt made an amendment to the motion asking that it be mandatory to include the “academic dishonesty statement” on all syllabi. It was duly seconded. Motion failed.

10. Wayne King, Director, WVU Foundation, discussed the following facts concerning the WVU Foundation: Employees, Foundation Asset Management, Endowment, Gifts, Support Funds, Operating Budget, Stewardship, Independence, Technology, and the Board of Directors.

New Business

11. Linda Vona-Davis read a statement that was submitted to the Monongalia County Board of Health banning indoor smoking from all public spaces, workplaces, bars and restaurants in Monongalia County. She said the appeal was approved by Jeff Neely, M.D., President and CEO, University Health Associates, Fred Butcher, Interim VP, HSC, and Bruce McClymonds, President & CEO, WVU Hospitals. Professor Vona-Davis said by banning indoor smoking from public spaces, it will make Monongalia County a more attractive place to live for professionals and their families. She moved for a full-Senate endorsement of the ban and it was duly seconded. Professor Nigel Clark spoke against the motion saying it should not be up to the Senate to endorse the ban as a whole but senators could provide individual support.

A hand count was taken for the motion; 30 in favor and 32 against with 5 abstentions. Motion failed.

12. The meeting adjourned at 4:50 p.m. to reconvene on Monday, March 10, 2008.

Re: New Courses and Course Changes

College of Creative Arts

New Courses:

Creative Arts

ART 235. Introduction to Silkscreen. 3-Hr. Printmaking class concerned with creating an understanding and sensitivity towards silkscreen processes, techniques, and developing ideas and images using multiple approaches. Students acquire knowledge of silkscreen, examine its aesthetics, discourse, and history. (Effective Term: Fall, 2007) (CIP-500101)

Rationale: This course is set up to introduce students to one of four major printmaking processes. This course may be used as part of the Art 200 Major Studio Area Sequence, the Art 200 Level Studio Courses Sequence, or the Art Electives Sequence. This course is set up for a student to have a basic understanding of a printmaking process that is generally used throughout the Fine Art and Commercial worlds. This class will allow another avenue of expression and creation for a well-rounded Fine Arts student.

ART 515. Arts Administration. 3-Hr. This course provides a practical approach to understanding Arts Management in not-for-profit organizations. Topics include facilities management, leadership, programming, audience development, Board relations, and fundraising. (Effective Term: Fall, 2008) (CIP-500704)

Rationale: This course is one of a group of interdisciplinary studies to introduce students to Arts Administration. The College of Creative Arts is developing a minor for students interested in the business of the arts, to include this course, curatorial practice, graphic design, business writing and small business management courses.

EBERLY COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

New Courses:

English

ENGL 355. Topics in Multiethnic Literature. 3-Hr. Specialized topics course reflective current issues in Multiethnic literature and culture. Topics very per semester. (Effective Term: Fall, 2008) (CIP-230101)

Rationale: Will meet program need as upper-division hours required for majors. Parallel course in the expanded-canon topics series: compare ENGL 354 Topics in African American Literature; ENGL 356 Topics in Native American Literature. Will serve major program and university need for “W” courses.
Legal Studies

LEGS 610. Law and the Legal System. 3-Hr. Introduction to the law and its functions, the structure of the U.S. legal system, and the actors in the legal system and the actors in the legal system. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP- 229999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGS 620. Researching the Law. 3-Hr. Provides experience in locating and interpreting primary and secondary legal authority; federal and state constitutions; agency rules and regulations. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP- 229999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGS 630. Law and Society. 3-Hr. Explores the relationship between legal rules and social norms; the law’s role in defining deviance and establishing social control; issues of equality; where people go to resolve disputes. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP- 229999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGS 640. Administrative Legal Process. 3-Hr. Explores the role of administrative agencies in making law. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-229999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGS 650. The Legislative Process. 3-Hr. Examines how legislation develops and implications of recent legislative reform enactments and proposals. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-229999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGS 660. Alternative Dispute Resolution. 3-Hr. Theoretical and practical examination of alternative dispute processes and assessment of the appropriateness of alternative dispute resolution for particular legal disputes. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-229999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGS 691. Advanced Topics. 1-6 Hr. Study of contemporary topics selected from recent developments in the field. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-229999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGS 692. Directed Studies. 1-3 Hr. Legal studies internship, directed study, reading, and/ or research. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-229999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGs 700. Research Capstone. 3-Hr. Research activities leading to a scholarly project applying and extending knowledge gained across the master of legal studies program course work. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-22999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGs 710. Family Law. 3-Hr. Examines the distribution of power and responsibility among parent, child, and the state related a variety of family issues and social service workers’ reporting obligations. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-22999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGs 720. Media and the Law. 3-Hr. Survey of mass media and the law, implications of existing law, and proposed changes. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-22999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGs 730. Employment Law. 3-Hr. Explores law related to workers compensation, disability insurance, affirmative action/equal opportunity policies, workplace discrimination and related federal and state statutes. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-22999)
Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGS 740. Commerce Law. 3-Hr. Survey of the legal principles relating to the organization, operation, and management of business organizations and principles relating to commercial transactions. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-229999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGS 750. Criminal Law and Procedure. 3-Hr. Covers the investigative stages of search and seizure, interrogation, and identification. Familiarizes students with prosecutorial stages and evidentiary issues. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-229999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGS 760. Administrative Ethics. 3-Hr. Analysis of ethical issues in the law and the administrative decision making process. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-229999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGS 770. Healthcare Law. 3-Hr. Examines law and health care regulations related to provision of healthcare and issues related to liability. (Effective Term: Spring, 2007) (CIP-229999)
Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

LEGS 780. Constitutional Law. 3-Hr. Examines the concept of constitutionalism, the relationships between the branches of government and between national and state governments, and the role of the Constitution in protecting individual liberties. (Effective Term: Spring, 2008) (CIP-229999)

Rationale: This is a fully web based learning program to address the needs of students interacting with the legal system in the course of their jobs in human resources, court administration, criminal justice systems, social service systems. It is intended to provide graduate education to students who seek to deal with these problems, not to provide a law degree.

The program is guided by an advisory committee consisting of representatives from public administration, political science, the Law School and the School of Applied Social Sciences.

Physics

New Course:

ASTR 367. Astrophysics I. 3-Hr. PR: PHYS 314. Physical description of the astronomical universe. Physical principles are used to explain the properties and evolution of stars. Physical properties and effects of the Milky Way’s interstellar medium are examined. (Effective Term: Fall, 2008) (CIP-400801)

Rationale: This course is one of a complete set of courses to be taken by physics students interested in careers in the physics specialties of astronomy and astrophysics. It is the first course in a two semester sequence that provides breadth in all the areas in the field of astronomy and astrophysics and enhances students’ preparation for advanced studies in these topics in graduate school.

ASTR 368. Astrophysics II. 3-Hr. PR: ASTR 367. Continuation of ASTR 367. Physical principles are applied to the properties and evolution of the Milky Way and galaxies and to the structure and evolution of the solar system. Physical properties of the universe are examined. (Effective Term: Spring, 2008) (CIP-400801)

Rationale: This course is one of a complete set of courses to be taken by physics students interested in careers in the physics specialties of astronomy and astrophysics. It is the second course in a two semester sequence that provides breadth in all the areas in the field of astronomy and astrophysics and enhance students’ preparation for advanced studies in these topics in graduate school.

ASTR 470. General Relativity. 3-Hr. PR: PHYS 314 & PHYS 331. Innovative ‘physics-first’ introduction to Einstein’s relativistic theory of gravity. Topics covered include special relativity, curved space time, spherical stars, gravitational collapse and black holes, gravitational waves and cosmology. (Effective Term: Spring, 2009) (CIP- 400801)

Rationale: This course is one of a set of courses to be taken by physics students interested in careers in the physics specialties of astronomy and astrophysics. The new approach adopted by this course will give undergraduates at WVU an excellent introduction to this essential theory of modern physics which has a growing number of applications in science and technology (e.g. GPS time keeping). For students continuing onto graduate study, the course would serve as a very good introduction to the more detailed exposition of the theory at that level.

ASTR 700. Radio Astronomy. 3-Hr. PR: PHYS 314 & PHYS 333. Introduction to radio astronomy theory and techniques suitable for graduate students. Topics covered include radio-wave fundamentals, antenna theory, radiation mechanisms, extragalactic sources, pulsars and cosmology. (Effective Term: Fall, 2007) (CIP- 400801)

Rationale: Additional faculty in the field of astronomy and astrophysics make possible a more complete set of courses to be taken by physics students interested in careers in these physics specialties. This course is an essential part of the training for graduate and undergraduate researchers in radio astronomy. As an elective for upper-level undergraduates and graduate physics students, this course would broaden their skills base and would be useful for careers involving communications, microwave engineering and imaging.

ASTR 701. Computational Astrophysics. 3-Hr. PR: MATH 261. Introduction to C programming techniques for astrophysical problems for graduate students. Topics covered include hypothesis testing, Monte Carlo simulations and Fourier techniques for analysis of astronomical data. (Effective Term: Spring, 2008) (CIP- 400801)

Rationale: Additional faculty in the field of astronomy and astrophysics make possible a more complete set of courses to be taken by physics students interested in careers in these physics specialties. This course shows students how to use computing techniques to solve astrophysical problems. As such, it forms an essential part of the training for graduate and undergraduate researchers.

ASTR 702. Stellar Structure & Evolution. 3-Hr. PR: PHYS 451 & PHYS 461. Comprehensive discussion of birth, life cycle and end-products of stars. Topics covered include main-sequence evolution, giant stars, white dwarfs, supernovae neutron stars and black holes. (Effective Term: Fall, 2008) (CIP- 400801)

Rationale: Additional faculty in the field of astronomy and astrophysics make possible a more complete set of courses to be taken by physics students interested in careers in these physics specialties. This course provides the students with the theoretical background necessary to understand the physics of stars. As such, it forms an essential part of the training for any graduate student in astrophysics.
ASTR 703. Galactic Astronomy. 3-Hr. PR: PHYS 313 & PHYS 331. Detailed study of Galactic structure. Topics covered include Galactic dynamics, rotation and spiral density waves, the interstellar medium and supernova remnants. (Effective Term: Spring, 2009) (CIP-400801)

Rationale: Additional faculty in the field of astronomy and astrophysics make possible a more complete set of courses to be taken by physics students interested in careers in these physics specialties. This course provides the students with an up-to-date survey of what is known about our Galaxy, the Milky Way. As such, it forms an essential part of the training for any graduate student in astrophysics.

COLLEGE OF HUMAN RESOURCES AND EDUCATION

Special Education
New Courses:

SPED 782. Prof Prac in Policy Analysis. 1-Hr. Supervised experience in identification and analysis of current or emerging areas of state or federal policy as it applies to special education or disability services. (Effective Term: Fall, 2007) (CIP- 131001)

Rationale: The existing 6 hour internship requirement in the doctoral program emphasis in special education is being restructured to create six (6) one-hour internships that focus on critical leadership skills for special education faculty and/or administrators without the need for students to take additional credits. This new course is being added to provide guided practice in policy analysis related to state and federal laws for special education and disability services and also to directly address the recommendations of the U.S. Department of Education Office of Special Education’s Blue Ribbon Committee on Leadership Programs in Special Education reflecting best practices in doctoral preparation in this discipline.

SPED 786. Prof Prac in Serv Activities. 1-Hr. Supervised experiences in planning, implementing and evaluating service activities at local, state and/or national levels in special education or disability services. (Effective Term: Fall, 2007) (CIP- 131001)

Rationale: The existing 6-hour internship requirement in the doctoral program emphasis in special education is being restructured to create six (6) one-hour internships that focus on critical leadership skills for special education faculty and/or administrators without the need for students to take additional credits. This new course is being added to provide guided practice in local, state and national service activities for special education and disability services and also to directly address the recommendations of the U.S. Department of Education Office of Special Education’s Blue Ribbon Committee on Leadership Programs in Special Education reflecting best practices in doctoral preparation in this discipline.

SPED 787. Prof Prac in Program Admin. 1-Hr. Supervised experiences in operation and management of programs and services related to special education in school systems and/or disability services in community agencies. (Effective Term: Fall, 2007) (CIP- 131001)
Rationale: The existing 6 hour internship requirement in the doctoral program emphasis in special education is being restructured to create six (6) one-hour internships that focus on critical leadership skills for special education faculty and/or administrators without the need for students to take additional credits. This new course is being added to provide guided practice in administration of programs in special education and disability services and also to directly address the recommendations of the U.S. Department of Education Office of Special Education’s Blue Ribbon Committee on Leadership Programs in Special Education reflecting best practices in doctoral preparation in this discipline.

SPED 788. Prof Prac in Pers Support. 1-Hr. PR: SPED 775. Supervised experiences in instructional supervision and personnel evaluation in programs related to special education in school systems and/or disability services in community agencies. (Effective Term: Fall, 2007) (CIP-131001)

Rationale: The existing 6 hour internship requirement in the doctoral program emphasis in special education is being restructured to create six (6) one-hour internships that focus on critical leadership skills for special education faculty and/or administrators without the need for students to take additional credits. This new course is being added to provide guided practice in personnel support for practitioners working in programs in special education and disability services and also to directly address the recommendations of the U.S. Department of Education Office of Special Education’s Blue Ribbon Committee on Leadership Programs in Special Education reflecting best practices in doctoral preparation in this discipline.

SPED 789. Prof Prac in Eval. Practices. 1-Hr. Supervised experiences in needs assessment and program evaluation in programs related to special education in school systems and/or disability services in community agencies. (Effective Term: Fall, 2007) (CIP-131001)

Rationale: The existing 6 hour internship requirement in the doctoral program emphasis in special education is being restructured to create six (6) one-hour internships that focus on critical leadership skills for special education faculty and/or administrators without the need for students to take additional credits. This new course is being added to provide guided practice in planning and conducting evaluations of program innovations in special education and disability services and also to directly address the recommendations of the U.S. Department of Education Office of Special Education’s Blue Ribbon Committee on Leadership Programs in Special Education reflecting best practices in doctoral preparation in this discipline.

Course Changes:

From:

SPED 669. Professional Practicum: MSE 9hr. PR: Department approval. Internship, advanced student teaching in multiple certification areas in mild/moderate disabilities.

To:

SPED: 669. Culminating Practicum: MSE. 3-Hr. PR: Department approval. Internship, advanced student teaching in this area of specialization: Multicategorical Special Education.
Rationale: This application requests a change in course title and credit hours to align this practicum with the practica in other program options in special education. Reducing it to 3 hours allows student to complete different placements in multiple semesters. Changing this course does NOT affect any other program since it is ONLY required in the special education program.

From:

SPED 783. Internship in Professional Instruction. 1-9 Hr. PR: SPED 771. Supervised experience in design, delivery and evaluation of a college course in special education or disability services.

To:

SPED 783. Prof Prac in Coll Instruction. 1-Hr. Supervised experience in design, delivery and evaluation of a college or university course in special education or disability services. (Effective Term: Fall, 2007) (CIP- 131001)

Rationale: This minor change in the course title, credits, and description is needed to bring this existing internship in alignment with the new program plan for the doctoral program emphasis in special education. The existing 6 hour internship requirement in the doctoral program emphasis in special education is being restructured to create six (6) one-hour courses that focus on critical leadership skills for special education faculty and/or administrators without the need for students to take additional credits. This existing course is being changed from variable credits of 1-9 hours to fixed credit of 1 hour.

From:

SPED 784. Internship in Practicum Supervision. 1-9 Hr. PR: SPED 771. Supervised experience in observing, supervising and evaluating student teacher performance in a practicum setting in special education or disability services.

To:

SPED 784. Prof Prac in Clin Supervision. 1-Hr. Supervised experiences in observing, supervising and evaluating student or practicing educator performance in a practicum or internship setting in special education or disability services. (Effective Term: Fall, 2007) (CIP- 131001)

Rationale: This minor change in the course title, credits, and description is needed to bring this existing internship in alignment with the new program plan for the doctoral program emphasis in special education. The existing 6 hour internship requirement in the doctoral program emphasis in special education is being restructured to create six (6) one-hour courses that focus on critical leadership skills for special education faculty and/or administrators without the need for students to take additional credits. This existing course is being changed from variable credits of 1-9 hours to fixed credit of 1 hour.
From:

SPED 785. Internship in Research. 1-9 Hr. PR: SPED 774. Supervised experience in design, conduct, analysis and report preparation of empirical, applied or policy analysis research in special education or disability services.

To:

SPED 785. Prof Prac in Resrch Practices. 1-Hr. Supervised experiences in designing, conducting and reporting empirical research using quantitative and/or qualitative methods in special education or disability services. (Effective Term: Spring, 2008) (CIP-131001)

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING AND MINERAL RESOURCES

New Course:

Electrical Engineering

EE 467. Digital Speech Processing. 3-Hr. PR: EE 327 and EE 329. Covers fundamentals in digital speech processing including production, speech analysis, speech coding, speech enhancement, speech recognition and speaker recognition. Emphasize hand-on experience of processing speech signals using MATLAB. (Effective Term: Spring, 2008) (CIP-141001)

Rationale: This course provides a new technical elective for senior students major in EE or CpE and is also useful to students in the area of Biometrics and CS.

WVU INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Criminal Justice

New Courses:

CMJS 120. Survey of Criminal Justice. 3-Hr. A survey course designed to familiarize students with the functions, structure, and organization of the agencies that are responsible for the administration of justice in America. Specifically, the course deals with the police and issues related to law enforcement, prosecution of offenders, the judicial system, and corrections. (Effective Term: Spring, 2008) (CIP-451101)
CMJS 134. Substance Abuse Policy. 3-Hr. The fundamentals of mood-altering chemicals other than ethyl alcohol and theories, symptomatology, and treatment of their abuse. Provides the facts and insights concerning the abuse of a wide variety of “legal” and “illegal” mood-altering chemical substances and approaches to treatment and prevention of drug abuse. Addresses the current US policy regarding substance abuse prevention, treatment, criminality, and education. (Effective Term: Spring, 2008) (CIP-451101)

CMJS 245. Criminal Law. 3-Hr. This course focuses of that aspect of the American legal and judicial system associated with the violation of law and the process that is utilized to determine a verdict. Topics include the definitions of criminal offenses, rights of the accused, pre-trial procedures, the criminal trial and the appeal process. (Effective Term: Spring, 2008) (CIP-451101)

CMJS 310. Law Enforcement Administration. 3-Hr. This course will introduce you to the history of law enforcement in the United States, the roles of law enforcement officers, the purpose of policing, police conduct, police administration, and community relations. (Effective Term: Spring, 2008) (CIP-451101)

CMJS 320. Courts and Judicial Systems. 3-Hr. This course focuses on the structural outlay and philosophy of the court system in America with special emphasis on the court procedures, structures, constitutional guaranties, the trial process, the role of judges, prosecutors, defense attorneys and juries. (Effective Term: Spring, 2008) (CIP-451101)

CMJS 410. Criminal Investigations. 3-Hr. This course focuses on that aspect of the American legal and judicial system associated with the investigative processes as conducted by law enforcement and forensic science. Included will be an examination of the role of crime scene investigation, witness interviewing, and the investigators relationship with the prosecution. (Effective Term: Spring, 2008) (CIP-451101)

Rationale: These courses are part of a new major in Criminal Justice at WVU-Technical Institute.

<td>DSM 190101</td>
<td>Create new subject code and move all existing F&amp;CS courses to that new code. Old: F&amp;CS New: DSM, Design and Merchandising.</td>
<td>The Davis college has reorganized the Division of Family and Consumer Science and renamed it the Division of Design &amp; Merchandising. Two remaining programs have been realigned and renamed. The courses remaining with F&amp;CS code are to receive the DSM code to match the program name.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>FDM 190901</td>
<td>Create new subject code; existing TA&amp;M courses will be moved to that new code through course alteration applications or will be dropped. Also, the name of current area of emphasis in the major, Apparel Design, will be changed to Fashion Design. Old: TA&amp;M New: FDM, Fashion Design and Merchandising.</td>

</table>
CCB 260911  Action: Create new subject code, split CCMD 797 to CCB 797.
Old: CCMD
New: CCB, Cancer Cell Biology.
Rationale: Courses in the Interdisciplinary Grad Programs in the Biomedical Sciences were initially approved with the temporarily borrowed course prefix CCMD. Cancer Cell Biology is one of the seven graduate programs in the Interdisciplinary Program. This change will create a new course prefix code for this component program.

ALTERATIONS (Minor Changes). The following alterations (minor changes) have received administrative approval:

</table>
| ARHS 388 500101 | Change course number, title, and description.
Old: ART 293X. The Art of Andy Warhol. 3 hr.
Rationale: This course is being changed from a special topics course to a regular course under the amnesty program. The course strengthens and extends the Division of Art’s offerings in contemporary art by examining the art and impact of one of the most significant artists of the second half of the twentieth century. |
| CHEM 727 400501 | Change course number, title, description
Old: CHEM 791C. Advanced Topics in Inorganic Chemistry. 1-6 hr.
New: CHEM 727. Bioinorganic Chemistry. 3 hr. PR: CHEM 422 or Consent.
Metal ions in biological systems; proteins, nucleic acids, and cofactors as ligands; metal uptake, storage, and regulation; structural and catalytic roles; substrate activation, electron transfer, and group transfer reactions; metals in medicine.
Rationale: This course is being changed from an advanced topics course to a regular course under the amnesty program. The course topic is an essential one in modern inorganic chemistry and to students interested in the roles that metal ions play in biological systems. |
| ENTO 401 260702 | Change course number and description.
Old: ENTO 293-B. Forensic Entomology. 3 hr. Study of entomology in legal investigations; processing specimens at crime scene and in the morgue; identification of arthropods collected in forensic cases; determination of the post-mortem interval; evaluation of selected case studies.
New: ENTO 401. Forensic Entomology. 3 hr. Study of entomology in legal investigations; processing of specimens at crime scene/morgue; identification of arthropods from forensic cases; determination of post-mortem intervals; evaluation of case studies.
Rationale: This course is being changed from a special topics course to a regular course under the amnesty program. The course supports the University’s Forensic Studies Program. |
| ENTO 503 260702 | Change course number and description.
Old: ENTO 793C. Medical Entomology. 3 hr. The impact of arthropods on the health of human and domestic animals. Epidemiology of major diseases of humans and animals transmitted by arthropods. Identification, rearing, preparation, and collecting of medically important arthropods.
New: ENTO 503. Medical Entomology. 3 hr. PR: Medically
Rationale: This course is being changed from an advanced topics course to a regular course under the amnesty program. This course is required for entry into some medical and veterinary schools. The change in course number will make the course available to senior undergraduates. |
